The listening space with 5.1 surround sound, a small touch screen to select the contribution of one of the artists and a bigger screen for information on that piece.

A touch screen interface displaying a list of 20 sound artists. The list is presented as a vertical column of 20 rectangular buttons, each containing the name of an artist. The buttons are arranged in a slightly staggered, overlapping manner, creating a sense of depth. The text is white on a dark background.
